There's a feeling that comes when you know you have surrounded your loved ones with safety and warmth. It brings a sense of wellbeing to protect them from cold, noise, storms, and whatever the outside world has in store. This magical place of sanctuary is more than just a home.

It is a Haven.

The Beauty of Energy Efficiency

Installing Haven Insulated Siding is unquestionably a way to transform the beauty of your home.

Haven is scientifically designed to add to your home's exterior insulating ability - your R-value. Haven's graphite enhanced EPS insulation is made with Neopor® from BASF SE. Neopor aids in the absorption and reflection of radiant heat which makes Haven's R-value** up to 19% higher than traditional insulated siding.

Straight, Flat, Fabulous

You know how great a home looks the moment new quality siding is installed. Well Haven's great look goes on and on and on. The industry's most advanced insulation backs Haven Insulated Siding to make it rigid, flat and strong for years of performance without sagging or compromised seams.

Insulating Value

Haven's graphite - enhanced EPS insulation is made with Neopor** offering outstanding moisture protection while reducing thermal conductivity, or the flow of hot and cold air through the wall cavities. And, its superior permeability allows water vapor from inside the home to escape.

Thermal energy tests demonstrate the insulating value of Haven.

200% More Bond Strength

Glue Beads

Full Adhesive

The secret is in Haven's TXL™ Lamination Technology. Unlike most siding manufacturers that only "bead" glue on their backing, Haven fully covers the backing for a "locked-tight" adherence between the layers. That means the facing and insulation act as one with no separation, nothing but a flat, straight, smooth wood like appearance. It even offers over 200% more bond strength between siding and foam.
